

Sweet Rhapsody — home essentials

BY MICHELLE ZERILLO-SOSA

How do you combine historical architecture with current design? This kind of decorating challenge is all too familiar to Frank Pontiero of Frank Pontiero Interior Design. In fact, one of his clients wanted just that. The project was the Howard Van Doren where this designer was successfully able to blend elegance with ease by highlighting warm tones in upholstery and wall coverings. The result is clean and classic — just beautiful!

Those who have had the pleasure to work with Frank appreciate his ability to bring together timeless and historical influences to contemporary lifestyles, thus balancing elegance with modern ease. What some may not know is that this design firm enjoys a diverse client base both locally and nationally and oversees each project with discerning appreciation for artistry, authenticity and personalized style.
